

Kent M. Bloodworth

Kent M. Bloodworth is a native of Batesville and a graduate of South Panola High School. He graduated from Mississippi State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in agronomy and a Master of Science degree in weed science focusing on corn and cotton weed control. During his time in graduate school and for several years after, Kent was a research assistant in the Department of Plant and Soil Sciences.

After his time at Mississippi State University, Kent graduated from Mississippi College School of Law where he served on the Moot Court Board and was active in the Law Student Bar Association. After law school Kent clerked for Judge William H. Myers of the Mississippi Court of Appeals. At the conclusion of his clerkship, Kent moved to St. Louis, Missouri where he practiced law at Husch Blackwell, LLP. Kent currently is the General Counsel/Administrator for the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

Kent is married to the former Stacie Lero of Defiance, Ohio and they make their home in the Gluckstadt area in Madison County.