

Matthew A. Taylor was born and raised in Jackson. After graduating from Mississippi College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English in 1996, Mr. Taylor attended law school at Ole Miss, earning his Juris Doctor in 1999.

The majority of the first decade of Mr. Taylor's law practice was dedicated to complex civil litigation. Following several years as a partner with Scott Sullivan Streetman & Fox in Ridgeland, Mr. Taylor was a founding member of the firm of Gladden Ingram & Taylor in Madison. In 2013, Mr. Taylor joined Jackson State University as Associate General Counsel. In 2014, Mr. Taylor was named the University's General Counsel. Mr. Taylor has earned an AV Peer Review Rating by Martindale Hubbell, recognizing the highest rating for ethics and professional ability, and is a 2005 graduate of the International Association of Defense Counsel Trial Academy. Mr. Taylor is licensed to practice law in both Mississippi and New York.

Mr. Taylor is married to Sherry Taylor and is the proud father of twin boys, a step-daughter and a step-son.

--

Matthew A. Taylor
General Counsel
Jackson State University
P.O. Box 17239
Jackson, MS 39217-0239
Phone: (601) 979-3950
E-fax: (601) 979-9277